

every amount may be required, the terms are the same. The regular price of the EVANGELIST is $1.50 per year, but the deserving poor may have it at one dollar per year, and if some Brother pays the paper for a friend or brother, whether poor or not it will cost the person who pays it but one dollar. We trust our people everywhere will make a special effort to get the paper into every home represented by their congregation or congregations. Pay the paper for those who can not pay for it themselves, and if there are any members in your church who can afford to subscribe for the paper and yet are so disinterested that they will not take it, get them interested by paying the paper for them either for a year or three months, at the one dollar rate. Try this plan.

Again we call special attention to the reports by Brother Cassel both of the Chicago church fund and the general missionary fund. The former is not growing rapidly enough, while the latter is apparently getting all its support from one portion of the brotherhood. This is not as it should be. Brother Cassel has set the facts in this case very plainly before the people, and it should not be necessary to add anything to what he has said at the close of the report. Christmas is coming, and hundreds of dollars will be spent even by our own people to very little purpose. At this time especially let the whole brotherhood remember the missions of the church. Probably it is a query in the minds of some of our people why the Brethren church in the State of Ohio does not contribute more freely to the general work. Without offering any excuse permit us to say that the Brethren church in this State has purchased a property in Dayton for almost three thousand dollars and is partly supporting a missionary in that city. Of course most of our Conference districts are doing home mission work, but none other to our knowledge has undertaken such a task as this. It means almost as much as either of the two general missions of the church, Washington or Chicago. Yet Ohio can take care of Dayton and still help the general work; we have been doing, this and trust we may do more in the future than we have in the past. The Brethren church is abundantly able to carry the work and it should not be allowed to lag on account of funds.

The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, announces two new departments which will challenge the interest of young men and women throughout the country. "A Home College Course," as one of them is called, has been designed to meet the wants of ambitious young people who have not had the advantages of a university training. This course will be conducted by a special faculty, composed of professors in the leading colleges. The studies have been most carefully chosen. Each will be treated in an interesting way, and helpful hints for outside reading freely given.

"To the Young Man Beginning Business" is the second of these new departments. In it the most successful men in a dozen occupations will write about what helped them to the front in their own business, and give a list of books and magazines bearing upon it. Their purpose will be to tell the beginner how he can make himself more valuable to his employers.

These new departments will begin early in January, and will be made a permanent feature of The Saturday Evening Post.

College Notes

Kind readers of the EVANGELIST, you have not heard from us thru these columns as often as usual during this term. We are sorry for the neglect, since we have had the most prosperous term of school in our new history of but few years. The outlook for the winter term is bright indeed. It would be still brighter if the members of the Brethren church, whether living far or near, would rally to the support of Ashland College with not only financial support but with their young men and young women who ought to have an education.

School will be closed for vacation before you read these notes and most of the students will for a few days enjoy the comforts and blessings of home and friends.

Great spiritual blessings came to the school thru the Evangelistic meetings conducted by brother C. F. Yoder. The life and works of Brother Yoder speak as loudly as his words. We are proud of the fact, and justly so, that 94 per cent of the students are professed Christians. This per cent is greater than in any other school of which we know.

Man can not be a real man and leave God out of his life. No one is educated whose religious nature is not developed. More and more the Christian College with a corps of pronouncedly Christian instructors is rising in preference. Better, as Dr. Parkhurst recently said, send a boy to a third-rate college if it be Christian than to a first-rate college where God and man's soul are quite obsolete terms.

The Y. M. C. A. has been organized with a goodly number of members. Arthur Rugh, the College Y. M. C. A. Secretary of Ohio, who was present, delivered a pleasing and inspiring address to the young men. Prof. W. D. Furry was unanimously chosen as president of the movement. A. H. Lichty was chosen vice-president. Brother C. F. Yoder addressed the first Sunday-afternoon meeting, there being present about 135 men. His subject was "The man of Galilee and his appeal to men." At last Sunday's meeting Prof. Furry delivered a splendid address in his usual, rousing, oratorical, spiritual style. A great work is before the Association at this place and in the name of Christ we go forth to deepen our Christian life and to save the young men.

Our Christian Endeavor Society is active and awake to its duties. The average attendance is about fifty. We make an offering for missions once each month. The October offering was seven dollars. The meeting of last Sunday evening, led by Prof. J. C. Beal, was very interesting and helpful.

On Sunday morning and evening, Dec. 8, Prof. W. D. Furry filled the pulpit of brother C. F. Yoder at Warsaw, Ind.

Marcus A. Witter has begun a series of revival meetings at West Independence, Ohio.

D. F. Eikenberry accompanied by C. E. Weidner will spend their vacation at Williamstown, Ohio.

F. B. Yoder expects to visit his uncle, M. P. Yoder who lives near Wooster.

Mrs. A. H. Lichty and daughter Maude, will spend part of the holiday vacation with E. D.

At no time in the world's history has it been more necessary that young people should have a college education than at the present time. Young readers, let me urge you to stop short of nothing less. Will it cost you sacrifice? So much the better. Pay the price and you will be repaid a thousand fold. It costs but little to secure a college education. If you have the ambition, even tho you have not the money, push ahead. The world's leaders today are college men. The men who will fill the positions of honor and trust in the future will be educated men. Young men if you would succeed, go to college and also influence your friends if possible to secure a college education.
